

Ensure every student is known

Reflect on what you know about the students you teach.

If there are gaps in your knowledge, make a plan to fill them.

Use this list as a prompt.

For Māori students, learn about their tribal structures and cultural practice:

- Whakapapa (genealogy).
- Who they consider to be whānau.
- Tikanga – cultural values and practices they use (language, customs, traditions).
- About their marae.

People in the student's life:

- important people in the student's life
- who lives at home
- the best methods and times to communicate with parents and whānau
- education or medical professionals that provide support
- who can give support for learning at home.

Practical elements:

- Language/s spoken at home.
- Medications and allergies.
- Access to wifi and technology at home.
- Part-time jobs and responsibilities at home.

Personal preferences:

- Their likes, their interests, what they're good at, and what they need help with.
- Their dislikes, what can upset them and how they express this, and their calming skills.
- Their favourite hobbies, books, songs, sports and TV programmes.

Hopes and aspirations:

- Short and long term goals.
  - Ideas for work.
  - Future dreams.
-

This information was downloaded/printed from the Ministry of Education's website "Inclusive Education". Except where otherwise noted it is Crown Copyright 2018.

Information on the Inclusive Education website is regularly updated so we recommend you check the website version of this information to ensure it remains current.

---

