

Build understanding of SAC

Ensure all ākonga are aware of SAC and their purpose.

Also ensure SACs are embedded in teaching and learning throughout the year, so all ākonga can trial various options.

All ākonga have a right to access and participate in fair and valid assessment.

As the design of the assessment may create barriers for some ākonga, SACs provide alternative access and participation options.

School/kura will approve SAC, not NZQA.

In 2023, schools and kura will approve SACs for their own ākonga in Literacy and Numeracy | Te Reo Matatini me te Pāngarau assessments.

To assess ākonga eligibility for SACs schools and kura are required to follow an evaluation process using the following guidelines from NZQA:

- SAC – Potential barriers and potential SAC support
- Coming soon: Guidelines to support schools and kura in the trialling and administration of SAC for the 2023 Literacy and Numeracy | Te Reo Matatini me te Pāngarau assessments.

NB. NZQA will not play a role in the approvals process however they can be contacted if schools and kura need guidance regarding ākonga eligibility.
