NZ information and support providers in the private sector

The Dyslexia Foundation of NZ has compiled a list of NZ private sector organisations that provide information and tools for people with dyslexia.

It is important to recognise whether the information and programmes offered by private organisations are based on well-researched methodology. Where applicable, discuss this with parents and work together to provide continuity of learning for students. You can seek advice from your learning support team including your SENCO, Learning Support Coordinator, RTL, or RTLit.

Selecting a programme

Questions to consider before purchasing a programme.

Is the programme based on well-researched principles? Is the programme:

- systematic – based on the 44 sounds and spelling rules of the English language and can be taught by different teachers?
- cumulative – builds on previous learning to ensure a strong foundation?
- structured – beginning with simple concepts progressing to more complex ones?
- sequential – meeting children at their current level with an ordered progress?

Does it cover:

- phonological awareness
- phonics and decoding
- fluency
- vocabulary
- comprehension.
