

Expect different perspectives

Parents and whānau will have different perspectives on diversity and inclusion, and different expectations of partnership.

Seek to understand:

- their values and beliefs about disability and inclusion
- their own experiences of learning
- their hopes and dreams for their child
- their fears and anxieties
- their expectations around how their child will be supported in the classroom and in the playground.

Where parent and whānau values and expectations differ from those of your school, be open to learning from them.

This information was downloaded/printed from the Ministry of Education's website "Inclusive Education". Except where otherwise noted it is Crown Copyright 2018.

Information on the Inclusive Education website is regularly updated so we recommend you check the website version of this information to ensure it remains current.
