

Access community knowledge

Students, their parents, and whānau are:

- inherently capable
- agents of their own cultures
- articulate in sharing with teachers and leaders their knowledge about the way their children learn and what they may need to change.

This information was downloaded/printed from the Ministry of Education's website "Inclusive Education". Except where otherwise noted it is Crown Copyright 2018.

Information on the Inclusive Education website is regularly updated so we recommend you check the website version of this information to ensure it remains current.
