

Whānau expectations of schools

Māori parents expect schools to:

- give them honest, accurate, and useful information about their child's progress and achievement
- support their children to become confident learners who accept challenges and maintain their personal mana
- invite them to be part of their child's learning
- acknowledge their culture and values through the use of Māori protocols, for example, mihi and karakia at meetings
- provide programmes in te reo Māori and tikanga that supported their children's learning.
